Libraries That Lend Things

Steve Teeri teeris@aadl.org

Anne Drozd drozda@aadl.org

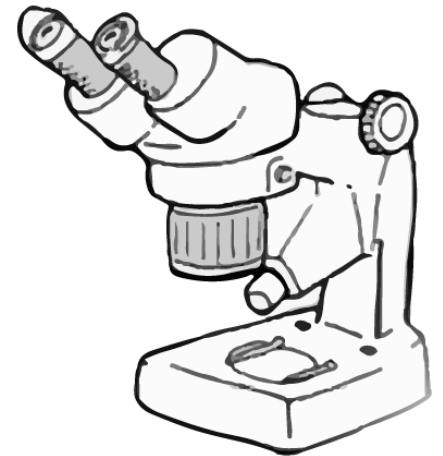

BORROW ALL OF THESE THINGS AT AADL.ORG/TOOLS

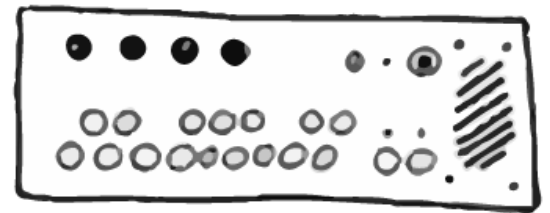

What we'll cover:

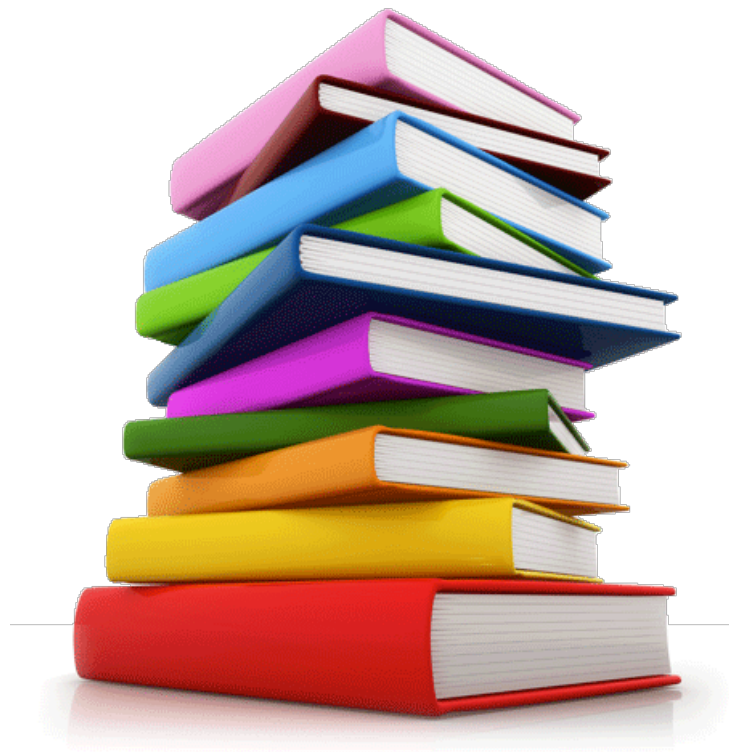

- Where to start
- AADL's current collections
- Audience
- Collaboration with community organizations
- How to start an unusual collection at your library

Where to start.

But we're already lending things!

Books were once unusual objects.

Why lend other things?

A natural extension of the core mission of libraries:

- reduce barriers to access
- increase access to rare and hard-to-find objects

What are other libraries lending?

Science Tools

Science Tools help you explore the world around you in fun and creative ways. Get an up close look and discover secret details invisible to the human eye with a powerful stereomicroscope, or go mobile in the field with a digital pocket microscope and see what you can turn up under logs and in puddles; devise experiments with a variety of handheld meters for measuring ultraviolet light, electromagnetic fields, sound, radio frequency microwaves and environmental quality; and gaze into the cosmos with a Dobsonian telescope. Watch this page for new items.

About Music Tools

AADL's Music Tools collection offers you a chance to get your hands on some very uncommon, unusual, and fun musical instruments! The AADL Music Tools collection features musical gear that you can check out from the Library, from such noted manufacturers as Moog, Korg, Maywa Denki, Bleep Labs, Chamber of Sounds, Critter & Guitari and more!

For now, Music Tools are not renewable, and not requestable. You can find them at the downtown library and they checkout for one week. As the collection grows, new ways to borrow will be coming!

Patron Uses:

Dave Menzo

Musician Dave Menzo explored an exciting concept for his new album “Shhh...”. Every instrument played on the album came from AADL’s Music Tools collection! This unusual collection allows Library cardholders to check out drum machines, synthesizers, guitar pedals, and other instruments.

Circulation Policies at the Ann Arbor District Library

Issuance of Library Cards

Application for a new library card may be made at any public service desk of the Ann Arbor District Library.

The Ann Arbor District Library issues resident and non-resident library cards to patrons regardless of age.

Persons Under 18 Years of Age

Must have application signed by parent or an adult acting 'in loco parentis' for the minor.

A library card may be issued to anyone (babies included) regardless of age.

The person who signs the library card application for a child under the age of 18 years is responsible for any outstanding fines, bills or overdue material on the child's library card.

Individual Library Cards Issued for no fee

To borrow materials from the Library without paying the non-resident fee, users will be required to prove they qualify for one of the categories listed below. Procedures for such proof are developed by the Circulation Department and approved by the Director.

Residents

Patrons who live within the Ann Arbor District Library boundaries are eligible for a library card for no fee.

Non-Resident Property Owners or Renters

Property owners or renters (and their families) who do not reside within the Ann Arbor District Library boundaries, but who own or rent property within the Ann Arbor District Library boundaries, are eligible for a library card for no fee.

Families include persons living at the same address.

Resident Business Library Cards

Businesses or non-profit organizations located within the Ann Arbor District Library boundaries are eligible for library cards for no fee. Any W-2 employee of such a business or non-profit organization may use the resident business library card for no fee.

Non-Resident Retired Employee

A retired employee of the Ann Arbor District Library or its predecessor the Ann Arbor Public Library, as verified by the District Library's Human Resources office, is eligible for a library card for no fee. ("Retiree" includes all former W-2 employees of the Library as defined in this section who did not separate from employment with the Library prior to retirement.)

K-12 Instructional Staff and Students

Non-resident instructional staff and students of State approved schools serving students in grades K-12 located within Ann Arbor District Library boundaries are eligible for a library card for no fee.

Washtenaw Library for the Blind and Physically Disabled @ AADL Patrons and their Families

The fee for a non-resident card will be waived for individual non-residents who qualify for services through the Washtenaw Library for the Blind and Physically Disabled @ AADL and their families. All circulation policies will apply to this non-resident card including, but not limited to, issuance of cards, collection of fines, circulation of materials, renewal of materials, and lost materials.

Families include persons living at the same address.

Tutor Cards

Any non-resident tutor who brings a letter from a licensed non-profit tutoring organization may be issued a library card for no fee.

Temporary Residents

Residents who are living at hotels, shelters, or other residences within the Ann Arbor District Library boundaries and/or are waiting until new homes in the Ann Arbor District Library boundaries are ready for occupancy are eligible for a temporary library card for no fee.
