Gary Welte:no

Joseph Mangold:I have. Way back with Nintendos Virtual Boy.

Thomas Vose:Old school...

Thomas Vose:Goodreads just added that.

Thomas Vose:Haven't tried it yet myself, though.

Joseph Mangold:I believe the new Amazon stores allow you to scan books. Apparently it will match their catalog online so you can order on the spot.

Thomas Vose:Makes sense - doesn't Amazon own Goodreads?

Yvonne Weinstein:im doing aurasma for my priuncipal for a book that she wanted to have more information available to out stff on each page.

Yvonne Weinstein:our staff

Karrie:a new ad-blocker market!

Yvonne Weinstein:book trailers

Yvonne Weinstein:yes

Jacob:I think so, certain types of content are more appropriate to that platform

Allie:yes, for sure

Virginia Schiller:Commonly yes

Tania:yes

Thomas Vose:Almost never take the time to actually watch it.

Jacob:video is being pushed

Tania:Me either Thomas

Sarah LaTorra:I posted a video today--hyperlapse

josie andrews:fb

Jacob:Facebook

Jessica Rodriguez:I don't watch much video, but my teenaged son lives on it...

Jessica Rodriguez:(or would, if I let him!)

Laura Cote:YouTube appears to be hardwired into my son's brain, so I hear you, Jessica.   ;)

Jacob:Duolingo has one to help users learn foreign languages

Laura Cote:TriageBot

Thomas Vose:Unboxing videos for new arrivals - an idea I saw recently

Sarah LaTorra:Thanks Laura!

Laura Cote:Is a bot more memory intensive than an app?

Laura Cote:ok, thanks!

Joseph Mangold:As I understand it, it is more of a script, so it takes up very little memory.
